

HR Policy Document

- Full-time employees are eligible for statutory benefits including provident fund, gratuity, and insurance, typically amounting to 22% of base salary.
- Training programs include onboarding, compliance certification, and role-based learning modules.
- Leadership development initiatives and diversity programs are conducted annually across business units.
- Employee engagement scores improved marginally over the last year across most delivery centers.